Technical Outlook: Nifty

In its recent action Nifty has moved above its recent swing high on the daily chart which signifies the return of the bulls into the market. The index is seen to be moving within a rising channel where it has been taking support at the lower band and finding resistance at the higher band. The trend is therefore remained bullish. All the corrections were brought into buying zone as bears failed to pull the market beyond the crucial support of 11350.

On the higher end 11500 had been a crucial resistance due to its importance on technical and option front. Therefore, a breakout above 11500 brought in buying in the market which is expected to push the index going forward.

Going forward, market is likely to in the bullish trend. Nifty may find support at the lower band of the rising channel which is currently pegged around 11450 whereas on the higher end 11600 and 11660 is likely to act as immediate resistance zone for Nifty.
